October 2019 Meeting The President's comments

At our last Meeting we had our Pairs Competition won by Bill Wallis with a lovely pair of Bullfinches. Second was a lovely pair of Irish Fancy benched by Barry and Fran Johnson.

The event was slightly down with 17 pairs, i.e. 34 birds. Member numbers were also slightly down – 33 Members and six visitors attended.

Still it was a very happy Meeting with a lot of laughter and banter going on.

I have to say thanks to Barry for getting off his sick bed and bringing Fran, Val, Marilyn and me to the Club. Because if he had not done this we could not have got to the Club with all the things we have to bring. Also he managed to put three pairs of birds in the Show. Well done Barry.

Also a big thank you to Bill for making sure he sent in some birds even though he is still unwell.

Well done both of you.

Our next Meeting is our Young Stock Show. You will find your Schedule included in this Newsletter.

We have, as usual doubled up on the Meeting time so please do your best to pop along and support your Club. Time approximately 9.30 through till 2.

Look forward to putting names to some faces.

Pete.

October 2019 Meeting The Secretary's comments

All Members' points from each of the Shows have been used to create a League Table and the points from the 3rd Show have now been added to it to create.....

THE DAGENHAM CBS SHOW LEAGUE CHAMPION 2018

Prizes for the League Winner £100.00 + Cup + Trophy

Second £50.00 + Trophy

Third £25.00 + plus Trophy

Sponsored by Vista Workspace Solutions

The Final League Table is therefore.....,

As you will see, the winner of the 2019 Dagenham CBS Show League was Bill Wallis, 2nd was Steve Wallis, and 3rd was Richard Wilson. So WELL DONE to the winners and all who took part and supported the Club.

This year's League was again dominated by the British Bird Keepers for the fourth year running.

on behalf of his brothers
Bill & Steve

Next year we will make some changes to the Show League by only having two Shows, a Cock Show in February and a Hen Show in October. There will be more prizes from 1st to 5th places plus best average score.

We must give Ken Grigg a massive thank you for judging all 3 shows this year.

Next year we will ask local CBS's if they will send a team of judges – 3 or 4 members to judge our Show League shows.

We in turn will volunteer to judge their club shows or table shows. Anyone wishing to be part of the Dagenham CBS Judging Team please let me know at the Young Stock Show. This will be good experience for anyone thinking about judging at some point as well as learning about the fundamental points of all show birds like have they got all their toes, nails, eyes are good, type, colour and size. Remember it's your opinion, everyone has one. But this way the pressure is off you, as the team of judges pick the winners not the individual. Then maybe one day when you have gained experience and confidence you can go off on your own.

The best judges in the country all had their first show at some point in their lives and remember NO Judges NO Shows.

Richard

Pete's chit chat

In last month's Newsletter it was asked if I could give some information on some of our past Members. Memory permitting I will try.

Firstly I did not know that Mr Pegram had been a Founder Member of our Club. I also did not realise he was approximately 100 (One hundred) years old. He looks very well for that age!!

(Didn't know they had coloured photographs in 1935!!)

Regarding Life Members, we have only three – myself (Peter Decort), Ray Vassey and Richard Wilson.

Longest serving Member of the Club is me. I have been a Member since I started coming to the Club with my Dad approximately 65 years ago. When I was old enough I served the Club in every position the Club has. Many years ago I used to go out in a van to pick up Members' birds for the Annual Show.

My Dad was Secretary of the Club for 20 or so years. My Mum and three of my sisters used to run the kitchen for Meeting nights and Show Days. When you think of it, we used to have four Shows a year plus the Dagenham Town Show. But that's another story.....

When my Dad died I took over the Secretary's job for about 25 years. In those days the Secretary served in all the positions. When I took over it was on the understanding that others took over some of the other positions at the Club.

I am a bit ashamed to say I was not as good a Secretary as my Dad because he lived and breathed Dagenham Bird Club till his last breath (literally his last breath).

The Secretary before my Dad was Len Nunn. I think he was Secretary for going on 30 years. Len was a Budgie man all his life.

Other budgie people were, Peter Cobb, who was also Secretary for Purfleet Bird Club, Mr Davies along with his wife, and also Ernie Signton who was one of the biggest Budgie breeders in the country.

At one time we had a Budgie Section to match any Club in the country. One year we even had Geoff Capes come along and judge our Show.

Some other names of Budgie breeders of the past that come to mind are listed below. I don't remember them all.

Mr J. Caton	Mr W. Clark	Mr A. Howas
Mr and Mrs Bold	Mr A. Fuller	Mr W.A. Rudd
Mr F. Webb	Mr M. Clark	Mr Anzara

As you will see we used to have a wonderful section on Budgies. Wouldn't it be nice to see that again at our Club?

Over the coming months I will try and remember other people.

As well as our Young Stock Show this month we were hoping to have a Members only Auction of Birds and bird related items after the birds had been judged. However we need to give this some greater thought to include more people, so maybe a one day membership of £1.00 just for this day will be available.(paid up members FREE of course). It will be busy so we can't do it along side of anything else. So maybe March 2020 will be a good time for it.

It will take a lot of planning and help, Auctioneer, Stewards, advertising, admin person, someone on the doors and of course items to auction. I have some ideas and am interested in yours. Please come and see me at the next meet.

Mick Pegram's Advice

Sparrowhawks are about so be careful if you hang your birds outside and, for those with aviaries, think about double wiring if not already done.

Falling In Love Again

OK. Right. Most of you that really know me will know that my heart lies with Corvids and without insulting anyone's intelligence, that's Crows. I am not now, nor have I ever considered myself an expert on birds, or anything else for that matter, which is the reasoning behind this article. Because if you can learn from this and the true reason I can learn from you, then the purpose of this article is well and truly served.

Early 2019 I was introduced to a small Canary, the Raza Español by a mate of mine – not mentioning any names (Leo Wallis) – and from that moment on I was smitten, totally in love with this little bird. I thought it would never happen because in the forty odd years I have kept birds, I have never felt this way about any of them (except my Jays) and let me tell you, I've kept just about everything over the years. I have finally discovered where I need to be

Now the Google research that I've done proved to be quite unhelpful really. There is very little info about the Raza Canary. There is limited info but it doesn't tell you what you really need to know, as the Raza Español is a horse race which happens in Spain annually rather like the Grand National in the UK, because the words "Raza Español" mean "Spanish Race" and that is all you get in the main. Like I'd be interested in that!

Anyway, enough waffling.

As I said before, I'm fishing for information. So anything you have would be greatly received.

Most people know that a Hen Canary is more than capable of rearing a nest of young. I found this not to be the case as single mums often abandoned the brood. They definitely do better as a pair as the Cock bird is a brilliant feeder as well as the Hen.

These small Canaries are so prolific I was getting six eggs per nest and all six eggs were fertile, but, sadly, I was averaging three chicks per nest, but all six would hatch. If every chick had survived I would have bred over 50 young Razas. But, unfortunately, this was not to be. As it stands I ended up with 23 young birds which I considered a successful year. I have no idea why I was losing half of every nest. Still don't. Any ideas? I use E.M.P.Egg Food mixed with Versele Laga Germination Soak Seed and to that I add Perle Morbide (Green). I found once I started using Perle Morbide the chicks seemed to come on in leaps and bounds. I feed a lot of green food. Always have. Plus herbs that grow in my garden i.e. Sage, Mint, Rosemary, Oregano, etc, Petite Pois, Carrot and Spinach. Twice a week I feed a finger drawer of Condition Seed. My main feed is Wiltons Own Canary Mix. Pretty bog standard really. To this I add Pin Head Oatmeal. This seems to do them, as anyone who comes in my Bird Shed always makes a comment on how nice my birds look which is heart warming.

Now water. "What of it?" I hear you say. But something I have always done is, once a week I add Marmite to the water and during Winter I put Honey in it too. Apart from the usual husbandry I keep them clean, keep them well fed and watered. They pretty much do the rest themselves.

Grit, in my mind is very important. I know that some bird keepers have other opinions on this, but I always use Oyster Shell mixed with Charcoal. Pretty bog standard but it works for me. But, that said, what works for me may not necessarily work for you.

Well I hope you find this article interesting. Any ideas or info you think may be useful to me would be appreciated.

Well thanks for reading it through

Les (Rix)

PS I forgot to mention that I put Apple Cider Vinegar in the water every two weeks.

(Good article Les – thanks for sharing your experiences with the Members.

Barry)

If anyone would like to contribute an article to the Newsletter about their birds or their showing – or anything else – please speak to Barry or Val at any of the meetings.
